Did you know that 40% of North Texans are first or second-generation immigrants?

Faced with the global economic crisis, communities from around the globe are recognizing the importance of coming together and building stronger support networks

A panel of experts will lead a discussion on the following topics:

- Economic and social contributions of the immigrant community
- Legislative and social issues related to immigration,
- Immigration assistance programs in North Texas,
- Services available in the North Texas community and opportunities to get involved.
